

'Brutality' Case Under Deliberation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A jury was expected to begin deliberations today in the first of the "prison brutality" indictments handed down last July 11 by a federal grand jury.

Closing arguments were given late Tuesday in the trial of Ernest Fletcher, 58, formerly a Tucker Prison Farm warden.

The trial began Monday in U. S. District Court here.

Fletcher is one of 15 persons charged with violating the civil rights of inmates by inflicting summary punishment under the color of law.

Specifically, the charge alleges that he used a five-foot leather strap on former inmate Jerry Dean Ivens.

Use of the strap once was common in the state's prisons, but it has been banned by federal courts as cruel and unusual punishment.

David Scott Lasley, 23, formerly a Tucker inmate and now an inmate in the Texas penal system, was the main witness Tuesday.

Lasley said he saw Fletcher hit Ivens 14 or 15 times with the strap. Ivens bled from the back, buttocks and legs after the whipping, Lasley said.

Ivens testified Monday that he was hit at least 11 times with Fletcher wielding the strap. After the 11th, he lost count, Ivens said.

The indictment says the beating took place in August 1966. Fletcher was one of three wardens dismissed that same month after State Police investigated prison practices.

U.S. Atty. Robert Fussell asked Lasley in court Tuesday to show how Fletcher whipped Ivens. Lasley slammed the thick strap several times against the courtroom carpet. Each time it gave a resounding pop.

Jim Bruton, who is named in 19 of the 46 indictments handed down by the grand jury, was called to the stand Tuesday by Fletcher's attorney, Douglas Bradley.

Bruton formerly was superintendent at Tucker. He turned aside all questions, asking the immunity provided in the Fifth amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

One witness, Jess Wilson of England, testified that the strap swung by Lasley and labeled as government exhibit 1 appeared different from those used at Tucker.

Wilson, 65, formerly a Tucker warden, said the straps used in prison generally were shorter than the one on hand in the courtroom.

Plane Crash Leaves Trail of Destruction

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A fighter plane trying for an emergency landing crashed in a residential area near Tinker Air Force Base Tuesday, killing the pilot and leaving a block-long trail of destruction.

Two homes were destroyed and three damaged, but no civilians reported injuries. The pilot of the Kansas Air National Guard F100 parachuted to safety less than three blocks from the scene.

Col. Loy Norris, commander of Tinker base, said the pilot, Capt. James L. Kirkhuff, radioed that his engine had flamed out at 15,000 feet and that he was unable to restart it.

The body of the pilot, 2nd Lt. James Nelms of Wichita, Kan., was found in the wreckage of one of the houses.

Kirkhuff, 27, of Euless, Tex., and Nelms were attached to the Air National Guard 184th Tactical Fighter Group at McConnell Air Force Base near Wichita.

The plane came down half a mile north of the Tinker base runway, and only four blocks from where two persons died eight years ago when another F100 crashed.

Fall Weather Enjoyed Over State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas will be enjoying typically fall weather the rest of the week, with mild days and cool crisp nights. The large high pressure center sprawling across the Central United States will be a major factor affecting the weather around the state in the next two or three days.

No rain is expected for another two or three days and fire danger remains high, especially in the southwest sections of Arkansas, where little rain was received with the passage of the cold front Monday evening.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 83 at Texarkana to 73 at Fayetteville.

Overnight lows were 42 at Fayetteville, 44 at El Dorado, 48 at Little Rock, 49 at Jonesboro, Pine Bluff, Blytheville and Memphis, 50 at Harrison and 53 at Texarkana.

There was no precipitation recorded around the state in the past 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Austin, Texas— The organizer and former commander of the 75th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing, Col. Frank C. (Pat) Malone, was honored Sept. 30 in ceremonies upon retiring from the Air Force after a career spanning more than 28 years.

On Oct. 1 he became general manager of Capital Cable Co. of Austin. He wears the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Flying Cross with Oakleaf Clusters, the Air Medal with four clusters and numerous battle stars. As 75th wing commander he led a squadron of RF-4c phantom jets to combat in Southeast Asia. Upon his retirement he was awarded his second Legion of Merit and the Air Force Commendation Medal for outstanding service to the nation.

He was rated as a command pilot with more than 5,000 hours of flying time, including 300 hours in combat.

Col. Malone is a native of Hempstead. His wife is the former Lucille Hutson, daughter of Mrs. Claudia Hutson of Hope. They have three children, Nancy Anger, lives in Washington, D.C., another daughter, Lynda and a son, Patrick, are both University of Texas students.

the limousine company's exclusive license to carry airport passengers, drove more than 100 taxis to the garage and a scuffle broke out when company guards tried to hold them off.

A rock-throwing battle then developed. Fires were set, buses were overturned, and a sniper fired from a darkened upstairs window, killing Dumas and injuring four others.

Several hundred youths went on a rampage along Montreal's main shopping streets during the evening, smashing displays and looting them. Every display window along one street was broken.

Squad cars raced along the streets in the rain, sirens screaming, but the mob began to disperse on its own and no arrests were reported.

The striking police were holding a marathon grievance meeting in a sports arena, and many of them threatened to defy the back-to-work order by taking sick leave. Shouts and boos interrupted Guy Marell, president of the policeman's brotherhood, as he ordered the men back to work, but the strikers began filling out of the arena.

Quebec provincial police reported the death of one of their men, another unconfirmed death and several wounded in a shooting at a West End garage. The garage was the scene of a battle between taxi drivers, employees of a competitive airport limousine service and passers-by.

Several fires were started, buses were overturned and snipers fired into the battlers.

The violence spread through downtown Montreal. Several hundred youths went on a rampage along St. Catherine and Peel streets, Montreal's chief shopping center, smashing and looting windows.

As 200 senior police officers and about 100 provincial policemen struggled to provide some sort of protection for the city, 120 men of the army's Royal 22nd Regiment were flown from their base at Valcartier to St. Hubert.

Postal Plan Vote Ends in 13-All Tie

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's postal corporation plan was rejected by the House Post Office Committee on a tie 13-13 vote today in favor of reforming the Post Office Department within its present framework.

The vote was taken with the understanding that it would decide whether the committee would work on a corporation bill or the alternate reform bill.

Chairman Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., was asked if the vote kills Nixon's plan as far as he is concerned.

"Yes, it does," he replied. However, no decision will be final until the committee actually reports out a bill. Advocates of the postal corporation could still reverse today's decision if they can get 14 members of the 26-member committee on their side.

The alternate reform plan by Dulski accepted today would keep the Post Office Department intact under a postmaster general but would give it more businesslike control over its operations.

Dulski's plan was backed by postal unions which contended the independent postal corporation would have given them no protection against management efforts to keep costs down, including wages.

Nixon and Postmaster General Winton M. Blount contend the independent, government-owned corporation is needed to put the mails on a businesslike footing and includes labor management provisions that would give the postal unions effective bargaining power for the first time.

Cotton Crop Forecast 1.1 Million Bales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department today estimated Arkansas' 1969 cotton crop at 1,125,000 bales with a yield per acre of 519 pounds.

The total crop estimate was 10,528,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight each, compared with 11,088,000 forecast in September and 10,948,000 produced last year.

The yield per acre was estimated at 450 pounds, compared with 474 predicted last month and the average of 516 harvested in 1968.

The estimates were made on the basis of field conditions on Oct. 1.

Teacher Sues, Wins Raise Promised

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Chancellor Erie Wright of Harrison has ruled that Act 259 of 1967 provided a mandatory $500 salary increase for each school teacher in the state.

The decision came in a suit filed by Ralph McKay of Harrison against the Omaha School District, which employed him in the 1966-67 and 1967-68 school terms.

signed receipts four times at Chicago police headquarters stating that confiscated guns he had personally selected were to be used for Army training purposes.

And he testified he disassembled some of the weapons for parts, destroyed others, sold "the cream of the crop" to a North Carolina gun dealer and pocketed the money.

But over and over again Turner insisted: "Those weapons were not for the use of the Army, they (the Chicago police) were going to destroy them and they gave them to me personally."

He said Conlisk had assured him the receipts he was asked to sign were only a formality to meet the letter of the law.

Illinois law says all weapons seized by police are, after being used as evidence, to be either destroyed or given to the armed forces for training or other purposes.

Conlisk said in Chicago he believed Turner—who came to the city last year to represent the Army chief of staff during rioting in which U.S. troops were used—wanted the guns for official purposes.

Turner was questioned closely by senators looking for details of his dealings.

Turner, who is now retired, said that on advice of his lawyers he has in the last few days filed amended income tax returns for the last five years. He said the amended returns show $6,800 in gun sales he had not declared previously.

Trapped Sub Freed, Comes to Surface

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Writer
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The research submarine Deep Quest was freed from its heavy recovery device early today and rose to the surface 12 hours after the craft and its four crewmen became trapped 432 feet deep on the Pacific Ocean bottom.

A two-man 8,000-pound submarine, the Nekton, used its mechanical arm to snip the plastic rope that was tangled in one of Deep Quest's two aft propellers. The rope was attached to a scoop-like recovery module, a galvanized culvert used to retrieve heavy test samples from the ocean floor.

The rescue dive five miles off San Diego by the Nekton, a craft operated by General Oceanographic Corp. of Torrance, took 70 minutes.

The 48-hour life-support system of the 50-ton, Deep Quest had another 32½ hours to go.

The crew was reported in excellent condition and in good spirits.

The 40-foot Deep Quest ascended to calm seas and was surrounded by Navy and Coast Guard ships on hand to assist in the rescue.

The mishap occurred as the sub was testing the 1,600-pound recovery module by raising and lowering it. A three-eighths-inch plastic rope became wrapped around a propeller, then acted as a winch that pulled the vessel to the bottom despite efforts of the crew to free it.

Calm Returns to Las Vegas After 3 Nights

By M.W. MINARCIN JR.
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Relative calm returned to this desert casino center's dominant Negro west side early today after three nights of widespread violence.

Police counted one shooting death and said another death may have been related to the unrest. More than 50 injuries and nearly 200 arrests were reported.

"The situation has improved considerably," a spokesman for Police Chief Pete Witche said. Sporadic outbreaks continued in the 40-block area.

Nearly 200 officers patrolled the area Tuesday evening, but as violence tapered off the force was cut to less than 100.

The most serious incident Tuesday night occurred when three Negroes tried to loot a liquor store.

A black security guard stationed inside fired two shots at the intruders with a pistol and one of them fell dead to the sidewalk. The others escaped.

Earlier Tuesday, Carl Benson, 71, a door-to-door salesman, was killed by a Negro in a street shooting.

Most of the violence involved rock-throwing and fire-bombings. Several police cars were stoned, and at least two had windshields broken.

The trouble was confined to a Negro area about two miles from the downtown casinos and about 3½ miles from the famed Las Vegas strip.

Mayor Oran Gragson maintained a 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew and a state of emergency, saying: "The area is not as quiet as I want to see it."

UNEMPLOYMENT (from page one)

ure" in mind. Kennedy noted that prior to the Vietnam conflict unemployment rates often ran over the 4 per cent level. Proxmire acknowledged this but said "we can't go back to that."

Budget Director Robert Mayo told the congressmen that should there be a sudden upsurge in unemployment, manpower programs could be speeded up. The Administration spokesmen also said that although there was no emergency plan, other steps could include restoration of federal construction and enactment of family assistance and unemployment insurance measure proposed earlier.

Kennedy and Mayo urged the members to work for extension of the surtax at 5 per cent after Jan. 1 and for repeal of the investment tax credit to keep up anti-inflationary pressure.

Dr. Geoffrey H. Moore, commissioner of labor statistics, told the subcommittee today that the general price level is virtually certain to advance further.

He also told the subcommittee: "A recession is not necessary to bring about a decline in the rate of increase in the Consumer Price Index."

HALLOWEEN THEME AT CLUB MEET

Jack-o-Lanterns, witches, ghosts, yellow wild flowers, grasses, pine boughs and acorns made the fall setting of the Perrytown Extension Homemakers Club appropriate for Halloween, when the club met October 2 in the Town Hall with Mrs. Tammy Daniel as hostess.

After calling the meeting to order, the president, Mrs. Sammie Martin, read the Thought of the Month, "The smallest good deed is more valuable than the greatest good intention." Mrs. Annie Lee Roberts led in singing "Home on the Range," and the hostess gave the devotion.

For the eye-opener, Mrs. Eva McKinney gave instructions for making a flower container for a table using a lamp globe, nylon net, a large glass and artificial flowers and for making a cover for hot bread.

Twelve members answered the roll call by telling "When I wished I could fix it". It was decided during the business meeting that the club would help with the Christmas decoration campaign by giving the 3rd prize of $15.

Mrs. Winemiller read the poem, "Influence," and Mrs. McKinney directed a game called "Conversations." Mrs. Bert Moody taught the lesson, "How to Fix It," on the repair of electric wiring. The Homemakers Prayer was repeated in unison.

Mrs. Josephine Rogers won the Surprise Package, and the hostess served a sandwich plate with witches brew. The November meeting will be with Mrs. Kathy Ayers.

WEDDING PARTY REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Nunn, Little Rock, entertained the Batson-Nunn wedding party Thursday, October 2 with a rehearsal dinner at the Diamond. The bride-elect, Miss Rachel Batson, wore beige and brown and planned a white orchid at her shoulder.

Yellow mums and glads decorated the tables where covers were laid for 34. Miss Batson and her fiancé, Roger Nunn of Little Rock, chose that time to present gifts to the members of the wedding.

GARDENIA CLUB MEETS

On Thursday, October 2 the Gardenia Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Frank Ward with Mrs. J. W. McRoy, co-hostess. Mrs. Guy Basye and Mrs. Wallace Martin brought flower arrangements for a costume party, and these were admired and discussed.

"A Five Senses Garden" was the unique idea offered in a program by Mrs. Ned Ray Purdie. The president, Mrs. Lonnie Crow, conducted a business meeting during which she reported on the state board meeting she attended in Little Rock. Mrs. Wallace Martin revealed news of the Sprouts Junior Garden Club at Garland.

A refreshment plate was served with coffee or iced drinks to 15 members. The meeting on November 6 will be in the home of Mrs. Hillman Koen with Mrs. Eugene Tollett, co-hostess.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "From Here to the Seventies" Tuesday night was a massive, one-shot effort by NBC News to provide an overview of the direction and quality of life during the past 10 years and a preview—often a bit frightening—of the next decade.

It was a bold, almost presumptuous project, attempting to cram the significant events and trends of 1960-70 into 2½ hours. Most of the subject matter was familiar. But it never seemed warmed-over although individuals might argue over the handling of some events. It seemed to bustle through the Vietnam conflict while it lingered on and kept returning to youth in revolt. It covered everything from the Pill and pollution to the Beatles and the Berlin Wall. It found time to examine pornography and the nudity vogue, and minutes later flashed a solemn roll call of major public figures who died during the period.

The theme was biblical—"There is an appointed time for everything"—and in keeping with these country-music times, there was often, in the background, the sound of a group singing a ballad, "Everything turn, turn, turn. There is a season, turn, turn, turn."

NBC commentators popped up in each segment with carefully prepared pieces that helped pull the wildly assorted subjects into some sort of focus. Ed Newman spoke of the new permissiveness on stage and in literature while standing on Broadway; Aline Saarinen talked of protein-starved millions from a market place in Colombia; Jack Perkins philosophized about youth while standing in a pasture amid the debris left behind the Woodstock rock music festival.

Paul Newman, presiding, narrated with professional skill and clarity.

Toward the end, David Brinkley had some thoughts about television's role.

"What television did in the sixties was to show the American people to the American people," he said. "It... showed a society that was in many ways looking better than any other but in other ways was not working at all. It showed a need for change and it showed the changes not being made."

One wished the program could have been shorter, that its editor had used a lighter hand with the tricks and tricky photography—interesting for those with color sets but disturbing and interruptive for those with black and white—and that the commentators had not sounded so piously preachy.

But it was altogether a magnificent job that accomplished something important in summarizing the period. More than that, it gave the viewer a look at the forest of the 1960s at a time when most of us are too close to see more than a few familiar trees.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HE HAS DIFFICULTY WITH DATES

Dear Helen: My husband kissed me "good bye" and said "See you at 2:00 o'clock." The trouble is, he didn't say what day or year.

It's been 15 months now, and I'm still waiting for that 2:00 o'clock date. Meanwhile, another woman carrying my married name, "Mrs. Roland A. Brown" (lets call it) added a lot of purchases to my department store account. I tried to track my husband down through her—after the mistake was straightened out—but she said he pulled the same thing. She's waiting for "4:00 o'clock." She thought she was married to him, as he told her his first wife and children were all killed in an automobile accident five years ago.

The first and "second" Mrs. Roland A. Brown would like to stop our husband from "marrying" any other unsuspecting woman. For all I know, I may not be his legal wife. We were married by a friend of his who said he was a justice of the peace, and Roland took the license with him when he left.

What do I do next?—"TWO" FOR THE ROAD

Dear "Two": Check the vital statistics records at your county court house. If your marriage

Isn't recorded, consider yourself lucky. You'll be saved the time and expense of divorce proceedings.—H.

P.S. If you two "Mrs. Browns" would stop "Marryin' Roland," file bigamy charges.—H.

Dear Helen: I don't know how to write this without making it look like I'm a tramp. Lord knows I'm not!

I've been married three years, have a wonderful boy aged two, and I love my husband deeply. We have no financial burdens.

I'm not beautiful, just passable, though I try to look my best. I keep a good home. I have no marital troubles to speak of.

My problem? I attract men like flies. I don't conscientiously go after them, but since we moved to this town two years ago, I've had seven affairs. They meant nothing to me. Three were with married men, all in good professions. Two wanted to get divorces so they could marry me, but I don't want to leave my husband.

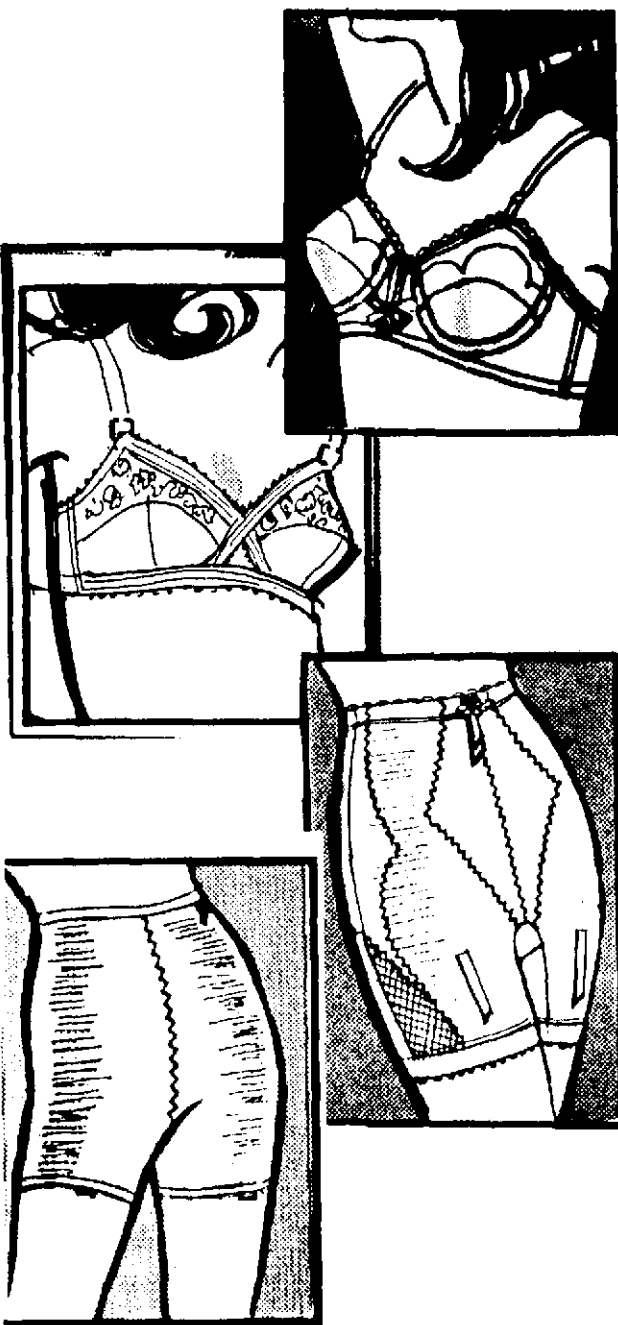

I know I need psychiatric help. Twice I've been in the hospital with acute depression. I've made appointments, but have broken them. How can I admit these terrible things which I hate myself for?

Right now I'm headed for another affair. I don't want it to happen, but I want, and suppose I need, affection and attention. Though my husband loves me, he can't show his emotions. I'm not making excuses for myself. I know I'm totally wrong. What worries me even further is that the men involved ask ME to forgive THEM for their advances. They tell me they want me to respect them as much as they respect me. This makes me feel all the cruddier.

I'm sure your readers will check me off as a slut. If only I were! Then I wouldn't be — WIERD, LONESOME AND SEARCHING.

Dear W, L. and S.:

A psychiatrist won't check you off as a slut. Rather, he may make you understand why you hate yourself so much that you use sex as an alcoholic uses liquor. Make an appointment and don't break it! Professional help can save your marriage.—H.

Oak Grove of NLR Coming Here Friday

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

The jury may still be out on the Hope Bobcats, but games against NLR Oak Grove and 4-AA powers Fairview, Magnolia, and Camden will soon provide the verdict.

At Hammons Stadium this Friday night, the case of Hope vs. North Little Rock Oak Grove will commence with the 7:30 p. m. kickoff.

What Bobcat fans want to see is a veritable romp over the visiting Hornets in a non-conference game. They want another offensive explosion comparable to the earlier home victories of 27-0 over Prescott and 43-2 against Smackover.

With a persistent mental attitude, Hope should have no problems in winning its fifth straight. However, Oak Grove will be fired up for the Class AA opponent, especially after two tough losses, and the Bobcats must strike quickly and get the early jump on the scoreboard.

Today will be the last heavy practice day for the Cats, concentrating mostly on the Hornets' offensive and defensive formations.

Under new Head Coach Frank Myers, the Hornets most frequently line up in the Arkansas "pro set" alignment with two split receivers and a split backfield such as Hope has with Artis Martin and Gary Jones.

Also, Oak Grove employs a Winged-T, and this setup is quite similar to that of Prescott, Smackover, and Ashdown. The basic defense Myers will use is the 5-4-2 with two linebackers and a pair of cornerbacks as Prescott and Nashville use.

Opponents have been able to pass fairly successfully against the Hornets, and Hope quarterback Ronnie Massanelli should be able to combine a good throwing game with the powerful running attack which has beaten down defenses all year. Against the same 5-4-2 defense playing Prescott, the Bobcats were able to run the ends all night with Artis Martin picking up 112 yards and Massanelli 71 more.

Since that time, too, Thomas Lloyd and Gary Jones have gained running confidence and experience and have become valuable assets to the teams in cases such as when Artis was out with leg troubles at Malvern.

Tomorrow this column will provide a detailed scouting report on the Oak Grove Hornets, listing the personnel and starters of the 25-man squad which sports a 1-3 record on the year.

The races in Region 4-AA's Western and Eastern Divisions have become tighter by the week, with no solid favorites in either side and only one unbeaten team left out of the entire ten-team league.

Arkadelphia crushed Camden 26-14 last Friday to attain superiority for the West, which had been hurting since Camden's early 27-7 trouncing of powerhouse Fairview.

Camden is on top of 4-AA East at 1-0, and everyone else has lost one game. The Panthers still have to play Crossett, though, and a loss in that one would throw the standings into a confusing three-way tie.

Over here in the West, though, things are still indefinite. Hope is 1-0 after the only divisional contest of the young season, and Malvern and Camden Lincoln are expected to finish fourth and fifth in that order. The Bobcats must face Fairview and Arkadelphia, and none of that "Big Three" has met.

Arkadelphia has the advantage with Fairview and Hope on the Badgers' home soil, and Fairview gets the home nod against the Bobcats. But in the 4-AA races of the past, home advantages have been no good in such big games as are coming up soon.

People now are looking ahead to next week when the Fairview Cardinals host the Hope Bobcats in the renewal of one of the biggest rivalries in the whole conference. The winner of that one will remain to face Arkadelphia, and the Hope-Arkadelphia bout on the last day of the season stands to be the most important game of the fall if both teams are unbeaten in the West.

None of this has happened, yet, and the schools are content to look to the next opponent and worry about the big ones when their time comes. Hope and Fairview have it fairly easy against NLR Oak Grove and Camden Lincoln, and both will be shooting for big victories on the scoreboard and statistic charts to build confidence.

Whatever comes out of all this, you can bet that once more the 4-AA champ will be recognized as the statewide King of Class AA, and the results are as unpredictable as an Arkansas-Texas game. You can also wager that the colleges will be reaping again from the graduates around 4-AA, and the products will make names for themselves and for their schools in the years to come.

Juniors Get Ready for Camden

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

With teeth gritted and spirits high, the Yerger Junior High Bobkittens wound up tough preparations yesterday before tomorrow's game against the tough Camden Panther Cubs at Camden.

Due to conflict, the game has been rescheduled and the kickoff tomorrow afternoon has been set for 4:30 p.m. at Coleman Stadium in Camden. This is because the Fairview-Lincoln senior game will be played on the same field tomorrow night.

After last Thursday's disappointing 20-43 loss to Ashdown, Coach Gaylord Solomon has worked his offense running the ball more but with the passing game a more important element in the overall offense.

Unable to contend with the Ashdown defense on the ground last week, the Bobkittens went to play-action and some dropback passes, and QB Buddy Ingram, spearheaded a 13-point comeback that just fell short in the closing minutes.

Once more Yerger will be matching against a rough opponent, as Camden led most of the way before falling to the Kittens 14-12 last year. The Panther Cubs could be hard to stop, but the Bobkittens hopefully are ready enough to meet the test.

Remember that the game will start at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow afternoon in Camden, and because of the shortage of time the 8th grade game scheduled with Camden has had to be cancelled.

Bruised Ribs May Keep Out Montgomery

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback Bill Montgomery of Arkansas has shown a knack for overcoming the obstacles established by opponents of the Razorback football team, and he gave a different sort of obstacle a good try this week.

The word is out now—bruised ribs will probably keep him on the sidelines when Arkansas plays Baylor at Waco, Tex., Saturday night.

But before the word was handed down, Trainer Jim Bone would say only that Montgomery's condition would have to be evaluated on a day-to-day basis.

"We'll have to wait and see," Bone explained.

He told Montgomery the same.

But the junior signal-caller thought perhaps more could be told. Bone got a telephone call from a man who identified himself as a sportswriter.

The caller inquired about Montgomery's prospects for Saturday, and gave the caller the same and none of that "Big Three" line—let's wait and see.

Burnett Still Leads Rushers in Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tailback Bill Burnett of Arkansas continues as the top Cardinals rusher in the Southwest Conference.

The high-stepping junior has gained 260 yards on 53 carries. In second is Jim Bertelsen of Texas, who jumped from fifth to second last weekend. Bertelsen has 216 yards on 30 carries.

Burnett is the league's top scorer with 24 points. Another Razorback, placement specialist Bill McClard, is second with 22 points.

Arkansas lead the SWC in total offense, averaging 404.0

Picks Texas to Defeat Oklahoma

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The annual battle of Dallas, also known as the Texas-Oklahoma football game, takes place Saturday in the Cotton Bowl. Both teams are hoping for an assist from Michigan State.

The Spartans will be hundreds of miles away in Columbus, Ohio, playing top-ranked Ohio State. If they can pull off an upset, the Texas-Oklahoma winner could be No. 1 in the polls.

"Someone'll have to derail Ohio State for this game to decide the national championship," said Darrell Royal of Texas. "Someone's got to get to them before anyone in this section can think of the national championship."

Royal's got enough problems worrying about eighth-ranked Oklahoma, even though his own team is rated second.

"We haven't been extended or pushed in beating California, Texas Tech and Navy," he said. "We haven't met adversity. I don't know if we can meet adversity until we're put to the true test, and that'll come Saturday."

Royal says his backfield of James Street, Jim Bertelsen, Ted Koy and Steve Worster is "as good as any I've had at Texas" and he calls Street his best-ever quarterback. Oklahoma counters with tailback Steve Owens, a Heisman Trophy candidate who grinds out more than 100 yards every week, and Jack Mildren, a potentially great sophomore quarterback.

"They're a good football team and we think we're a good football team," says Royal. "It's always a good contest, always a bitterly fought, rock 'em-sock 'em game."

The bitterly fought, rock 'em-sock 'em pick is... Texas.

And some bad news from Columbus, Ohio, for Royal and Oklahoma's Chuck Fairbanks... Ohio State to remain No. 1 by whipping 19th-ranked Michigan State.

"If Southern California's Jim Jones is as tough as Purdue's Mike Phipps, we're in trouble," said Stanford's John Ralston after Phipps threw five touchdown passes and a two-point conversion to nip the Indians 38-35 last Saturday.

Stanford's in trouble. The pick is Southern Cal—with Jones passing and Clarence Davis running—to take a giant stride toward the Rose Bowl.

Penn State over West Virginia — The Nittany Lions stopped Kansas State's Lynn Dickey last weekend and have the defense to do the same to WVU's Mike Sherwood, Bob Gresham and Jim Braxton.

Missouri over Nebraska — Cornhuskers have been improving, but not enough for the likes of Missouri.

Arkansas over Baylor — Bill Beall will have to wait a while longer for his first victory as Baylor's head coach.

Georgia over Mississippi — Rebels have lost two straight one-pointers despite Archie Manning's brilliance. Bulldogs have too much bite.

Purdue over Michigan — No one else has stopped Mike Phipps, so why should Michigan?

Tennessee over Georgia Tech — Volunteers may be looking ahead to Alabama, but no matter.

Notre Dame over Army — This one will draw a full house to New York's Yankee Stadium, but the Irish have the trump cards.

Titan Coach Quits Job at Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Coach Tom Collins of the Texarkana Titans has quit as a result of grievances presented to the Continental Football League team's directors.

The grievances, mostly matters involving personality conflicts and coaching methods, were presented Monday night, according to a team spokesman.

The spokesman said Bill Liles, an assistant coach, also appeared before the directors Monday night. While not resigning, Liles indicated he would do so, the spokesman said.

Defensive coach Jimmy Cobb was named to replace Collins as head coach.

yards per game, but the Razorbacks yielded the total defense lead to Texas, which has allowed an average of 232.3 yards per game.

Arkansas lead the SWC in total offense, averaging 404.0

Tuesday's Fights

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Al Jones, 230, Goude, 147, outpointed Charlie Polite, 205, Boston, 10.

HOUSTON — Manny Gonzalez, 148, Houston, outpointed Jesse "Chucho" Garcia, 147, Reynosa, Mexico, 10; Charlie Shipps, 149, Oakland, stopped Johnny Brooks, 155, New Orleans, 2.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Oscar Alvarado, 150, Uvalde, Tex., stopped L.C. Morgan, 155, Los Angeles, on disqualification in fifth round when referee ruled that Morgan had hit Alvarado with low blow after being warned.

Broyles Well Pleased With Workout

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks pleased coach Frank Broyles Tuesday with their attitude in a workout in pads.

The team worked one hour and 45 minutes, with quarterback John Elchler handling signal-calling while the usual starter, Bill Montgomery, was in sweat clothes nursing bruised ribs.

Tailback Bill Burnett, overcoming minor ailments that have slowed him this fall, was going full steam in practice for the first time since the Sugar Bowl game.

"It was good to have him back," Broyles said. "Elchler looked good passing. We worked hard on defense."

"We need more practices like we had today," Broyles added. "We had a better workout today than we had last week. This was one of our better Tuesday practices."

Broyles said Montgomery's status for the game against Baylor in Waco, Tex., Saturday night won't be known until the day of the game.

It will be the Southwest Conference opener for Baylor, which is 4-6-1 against Broyles' Arkansas teams. Only Texas has fared better against Arkansas since Broyles took the helm for the Razorbacks.

"We know what we're up against," Broyles said. "Teams in the Southwest Conference have a tendency to regroup for the start of their conference race."

"Ever since I've been here, Baylor has always given us fits," Broyles said.

Arkansas opened its SWC campaign last Saturday, beating Texas Christian 24-6 at Little Rock.

Bottom Teams Showing Best Statistically

NEW YORK (AP) — San Diego and Denver, which share the bottom rung in the American Football League's Western Division standings, surprisingly enough lead the league in a variety of important team offensive statistics.

Each has a 2-2 record, but Denver leads the league in touchdowns with 13, AFL statistics released today show.

And San Diego, helped by a strong offensive punch in last week's 21-14 victory over Cincinnati, leads in both total offense and passing offense.

The Chargers picked up a total of 413 yards, 214 by passing, and broke out of a tie with New York for the total offense lead. San Diego has an average of 380 yards a game, and 237 passing.

Kansas City, which leads in total defense and defense against the rush, with averages of 223 and 65 respectively, also has the best rushing offense, with an average of 148.

Houston has the best defense against passing, with an average yield of only 145 yards a game.

Leaders in Nat'l League Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League had new individual leaders in passing, scoring and pass receiving but Calvin Hill, Dallas' Ivy League rookie, was still the top man in rushing.

The running back from Yale played only the first half against Philadelphia last Sunday when an ankle injury sidelined him. But in that half, he carried 10 times for 91 yards and a touchdown, caught three passes for 71 yards and passed once for 44 yards.

Hill, according to NFL statistics released today, has rolled up 299 yards in 51 attempts for a 5.9 average per rush.

Big 10 Slide Blamed on Requirements

By JOE MOOSHL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten's slip is showing again and some of the coaches are asking for football equality.

A preconference record of 12-16-1 including last week when conference teams posted a 3-7 record on Black Saturday, has brought on the cry of "What's wrong with the Big Ten?"

Coaches and those close to the situation know that the Big Ten's higher academic requirements, a lower number of football scholarships and the rule against "Red Shirts" is the cause of the decline.

The biggest disadvantage is the rule against the "Red Shirt" a practice where players can be withheld from competition for a year without losing any eligibility.

The Big Eight Conference red shirts and as a result has a 6-0 record over the Big Ten this season and is 10-0 over the Big Ten the last two seasons. In the last three years, the Big Eight holds a 12-1 edge over Big Ten teams.

Although Commissioner Bill Reed claims the Big Ten is far from a football disaster area, some of the coaches would like the rules changed.

"I'm in favor of one rule for everyone," said Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue's undefeated and ninth-ranked Boilermakers. "I think we should follow the NCAA rules which are strict enough. I'm all for a football program to be as strong as it can be."

Illinois' Jim Valek said "I'm for red shirting and more scholarships. Personally, I would like to see the entire nation work under the same rules including the same number of scholarships."

Northwestern's Alex Agase flatly said "I want the same advantages that are enjoyed by the people I'm competing against. Nothing more."

One dissenter was Woody Hayes, coach of Ohio State's top-ranked Buckeyes, who is all for the limitations placed on the Big Ten members.

Hayes' formula is selectivity in recruiting on both the athletic and academic levels.

"I don't believe you need too many good players to have a good team," said Hayes. "Remember, you can price yourself out of football. The object is to get the youngsters you can keep under the academic standards."

Robinson Unconcerned Over Stories

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles has read a lot in recent weeks about the New York Mets and their ace pitchers, Tom Seaver and Jerry Koosman.

It makes nice reading, but it doesn't phase the veteran third baseman who faces the Mets in the World Series starting Saturday.

"I don't believe in that team of destiny business," Robinson said of the Mets surge to the National League pennant. "Dick Hall and Clay Dalrymple just came over to us from the other league and they both say we're better than the Mets. That's good enough for me."

As for Seaver, who won 25 games, and Koosman, a 17-game winner, Robinson tried to put them in the proper perspective.

"I hit against them in spring training and in the All-Star game," he said, "and they're terrific pitchers—as good as anybody in our league."

"I don't mind telling you, I was a little scared going out to play the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1966 World Series. But we beat those two guys (Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale), and these guys can't be as good as them."

Robinson said he is no longer bothered by the publicity given New York players, whereas he would have been five or six years ago.

"After you've been around awhile," he said, "you realize that being in New York a player gets the best of it. Some of them aren't as good as they're made out to be."

Baltimore's American League champions have been installed as the 8-5 favorite. But, Robinson discounts this, too.

"Being the favorite doesn't mean anything," he said. "You're the favorite because they look at what you did before. Rod Carew was the American League batting champion. How many hits did he get in the playoffs? One?"

Carew, who hit .332 during the regular season, beat out an infield hit in his first at-bat in the playoffs and then went 0-for-14 as the Orioles swept three games.

Robinson, a .234 hitter during the season, rapped seven hits in 14 appearances in the playoffs and made his usual standout stops at third base.

"I think the World Series will create a lot more interest this year than in a long time because of the Mets," Robinson said.

"It's a natural match-up. But I don't think too much about the Jets beating the Colts in the Super Bowl, or the Knicks beating the Bulls in the basketball playoffs. That doesn't carry too much weight as far as we're concerned."

Mets Plan to Platoon in World Series

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets who scored 27 runs on 37 hits against the Atlanta Braves won't all be in the starting lineup against Baltimore in the first two games of the World Series.

While nothing may succeed like success, Manager Gil Hodges of the Mets has his own method of achieving it. It's called platooning.

So, with Baltimore opening the series Saturday and Sunday with left-handers Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally, Hodges has decided to counter with his right-handed lineup of Ron Swoboda, Donn Clendenon, Ed Charles and maybe Al Weis.

Of the four, Weis was the only one to get into a game against Atlanta's three right-handed starting pitchers. He was a defensive replacement and went hitless in one at bat.

Replacing them on the bench will be:

Right-fielder Art Shamsky the top hitter in the series with seven hits in 13 at bats after hitting a powerful .300 during the regular season;

Second baseman Ken Boswell, a late season hero who hit .279 and then was 4-for-12 against the Braves, including a two-run homer and run-scoring single in the finale;

Third baseman Wayne Garrett, a .215 hitter during the regular season who came through with 5-for-13 against Atlanta, including a two-run homer that put the Mets ahead to stay in the clincher;

And first baseman Ed Krane, a .238 performer during the season and 3-for-12 in the playoffs.

Swoboda, in right field, was another hero down the stretch, finishing with a .235 average, field hit in his first at-bat in the playoffs and then went 0-for-14 as the Orioles swept three games.

Robinson, a .234 hitter during the season, rapped seven hits in 14 appearances in the playoffs and made his usual standout stops at third base.

"I think the World Series will create a lot more interest this year than in a long time because of the Mets," Robinson said.

"It's a natural match-up. But I don't think too much about the Jets beating the Colts in the Super Bowl, or the Knicks beating the Bulls in the basketball playoffs. That doesn't carry too much weight as far as we're concerned."

driving in 52 runs in only 327 at bats. Clendenon, at first base, hit .248 with 16 home runs and 51 RBI in only 331 at bats.

Weis, at second base, hit only .215 with little power, and Charles, at third base, managed only a .207 average.

However, Hodges said today that because Cuellar throws a screwball that makes him very effective against right-handers, he might make a platooning exception and stick with Boswell instead of switching to Weis.

Like all but one of the Mets, the four would be starting their first World Series. Only reliever Ron Taylor has played in the classic, with the 1964 St. Louis Cardinals. That, however, does not include Hodges and the coaching staff.

Hodges was in seven series as a player and coach Yogi Berra was in 13 as a player and one as a manager. Coaches Rube Walker and Joe Pignatano were in one each.

Hodges will stick with the rest of the lineup that bombarded Atlanta—Tommye Agee, Cleon Jones, Jerry Grote and Bud Harrelson, all right-handed hitters.

Linebacker for Houston Wins Honors

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — O. J. Simpson, Buffalo's high-grade Orange Juice who poured through the Denver defense for 110 yards the previous week, was bottled up last Sunday by Houston—and the cork was outside linebacker George Webster.

For his efforts in Houston's 28-14 victory, Webster was named today as The Associated Press' Defensive Player of the Week in the American Football League.

The former Michigan State All-American, who underwent knee surgery during the off-season, sparked a defensive effort that limited Simpson to 27 yards in 13 carries.

Webster, who once threw Simpson for a two-yard loss, also came up with three other unassisted tackles, intercepted a pass and knocked down two others and covered a fumble as the Oilers remained on top the Eastern Division.

Webster beat out safeties Jim Kearney of Kansas City and Jim Richards of the New York Jets for this week's honor.

Kearney, called the "Quiet Man" by his teammates, ran 60 yards with an interception for a touchdown in 26-13 victory over Denver.

Subbing for injured Jim Hudson, Richards got the game ball for his performance, which included a 37-yard run with an interception, in 23-14 victory over Boston.

Volkswagen Still Leads Foreign Cars

DETROIT (AP) — Germany's Volkswagen, still easily the best selling foreign car in the United States, has had a sales slump and faces stiffer competition from automakers in Japan and Detroit.

During the first nine months of 1969, Japan's Toyota has increased its U.S. sales by 94 per cent over the same period in 1968. With 93,427 sales, it leaped into the No. 2 position among imports, replacing General Motors' German-made Opel.

Another Japanese make, Datsun, had an estimated 58 per cent increase to 63,709 sales and took over the No. 4 spot, which had belonged to British Leyland, marketers of MG, Austin, Jaguar, Rover and Triumph.

James Ryan, Toyota's assistant national sales manager in the United States, said the number of dealers handling Toyotas has increased from 728 on Oct. 1, 1968, to 752 on Oct. 1, 1969. More important, he adds, the number of dealers handling Toyotas only has gone from 329 to 406.

Two American automakers are now marketing cars priced under $2,000. Ford's Maverick has a manufacturer's suggested retail price of $1,995 and American Motors' Hornet is priced at $1,994.

Toyota's Corolla four-door sedan has an average U.S. price of $1,790.

The average manufacturer's price for a four-door sedan in Toyota's bread-and-butter series.

You don't win the finals of the National team championship event without some luck but this year "The Dallas Aces" seemed to do a lot about making their own luck.

The bidding started out tamely enough. Bob Hamman's one-spade overcall was normal expert American practice. East and West were playing the so-called negative double and so East had to pass. Mike Lawrence passed also and, if West had let Bob suffer, he would surely have been set one or two tricks but West reopened with a take-out double. East was delighted to pass but Mike rescued to two hearts.

Bob's hand looked mighty good in support of hearts and, since it is well worthwhile to bid a vulnerable game in IMP competition, he raised to three hearts. Mike had almost nothing but his six hearts and 6-4-2-1 distribution looked so good to him that he went on to game.

West doubled and opened the ace and another heart. This didn't worry Mike at all. Since East followed to both hearts, Mike was going to have time to ruff one diamond in dummy. All he needed for his contract was to find West with the ace of clubs and reasonably good diamonds.

He won the heart in his own hand and led his jack of diamonds. West's king forced dummy's ace. Since East dropped the nine, Mike was able to play dummy's 10 and establish his eight. That didn't really matter. If the nine had not dropped, he would have come back to his hand as often as he wished by ruffing spades. He did use that procedure to get to lead a club toward dummy's king and wound up scoring 790 points. At the other table, the Dallas West played two clubs and made three for a 900-point, or 14-IMP, gain. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:

The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line: 1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers. 1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury. 1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W. Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald—but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review. 1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929—C. E. Palmer and A.H. Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957—Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president. 1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president—balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor
Alex. N. Washburn
Newspapers and Their Public Service

The number of newspapers in America has declined over the years. But that doesn't mean the press as an institution is declining. While the number of individual newspapers was decreasing, the total circulation of the remaining papers more than doubled—true measure of good health and prosperity.

I gather these figures from the Oct. 4 issue of Editor & Publisher, New York, organ of the daily publishing business in the United States and Canada. The first E. & P. Year Book, issued in 1921, listed a total of 2,042 dailies. The current (1969) Year Book lists 1,752—a decline of 14 per cent.

But total daily circulation in 1921 was 27,790,656—while today it is 62,535,394—a gain of 125 per cent! Sometimes the salesmen who push the electronic media—TV and radio—drop a public hint that newspapering is a dying craft. Well, individual craftsmen die but the craft itself never dies; in fact the craft right now is riding a high tide of growth and prosperity—as the figures just given you prove.

The prime reason why the newspaper industry will never die is that it's the one permanent, printed documentary available to all the people all the time. I cite you two current examples of public service performed right here in Hope: 1. Hope Star on Oct. 2 published the complete tentative draft of Arkansas' proposed new Constitution. We saved our original offset page negatives and tomorrow, with the co-operation of the Arkansas Press Association, Little Rock, are offering to reprint the Oct. 2 publication as a supplement to any newspaper in the state that wants it—the production price being only slightly above our actual cost. Already we have orders for 4,500 supplements, and when the total order reaches 10,000 we will fire up the press with new plates.

On Oct. 6 Hope Star published in full the report of the Hempstead County Grand Jury—running to nearly 6 columns of locally-set text.

No medium but your newspaper does—or can—offer such documentary public service... vital to our democratic way of life. Therefore it is reasonable to presume newspapers will exist and prosper as long as our republic holds together.

Obviously your newspaper has a vested interest in seeing our democratic way of life kept safe and sound—we're all passengers clinging to the same raft, half under water half of the time, but undrowned as yet.

Cotton Plant Shooting Death to Be Probed

COTTON PLANT, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor Lloyd Henry of Searcy said Tuesday that a grand jury investigation will be made into the shooting death of a Negro by Police Chief W. B. Whitaker of Cotton Plant.

The victim was Lacy Thomas, 47, of Cotton Plant. He was shot Sept. 27 near a Cotton Plant cafe. The shooting allegedly took place while Thomas and Whitaker were struggling over a shotgun carried by the police chief.

War Dissent Moratorium Lashed Again

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican call for a moratorium on war dissent suffered another blow today with the introduction of resolution by two Senate Vietnam critics urging withdrawal of American forces from the battle zone within a "reasonable time."

Unlike two earlier withdrawal proposals, the one submitted by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., does not propose a deadline for an American pullout.

Instead, their resolution criticizes the pace of withdrawal set by President Nixon—and asserts that the continued presence of U.S. forces can only postpone "the political accommodations essential to ending the conflict."

The Church-Hatfield measure, and the two other withdrawal proposals, appear to have no chance of Senate approval.

But together, the proposals are the starting point for a policy planned by Sen. J. W. Fulbright's Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Its hearings, the first on Nixon's conduct of the war, begin Oct. 27.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers has agreed to testify in open session, although no date has yet been set. The committee also has invited testimony from Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

In a speech prepared for the Senate, Church said the United States has no vital interest in preserving the Saigon government of President Nguyen Van Thieu—or even in the preservation of a non-Communist government.

"From the standpoint of our interests, we have been fighting an unnecessary war for five long years, making it possibly the most disastrous mistake in the history of American foreign policy," Church said. "It can never be vindicated, it can only be liquidated."

Democratic Sens. Harold Hughes of Iowa and Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri Tuesday proposed a resolution calling for U.S. withdrawal unless the Saigon government undertakes major reforms within 60 days.

The Church-Hatfield and Hughes-Eagleton proposals would be expressions of Senate opinion with no binding effect on President Nixon.

4% Unemployment Rate Acceptable to Nixon in Inflation Fight

By ROBERT K. WALKER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary David Kennedy says the Nixon administration finds a 4 per cent unemployment rate "acceptable" in its fight to curb inflation.

But he won't say how much higher the jobless rate could go without causing a change in anti-inflation policies.

Kennedy was one of several administration experts quizzed Tuesday by worried members of the joint congressional economic subcommittee.

Sens. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and William Proxmire, D-Wis., made it clear they don't share the view of some economists that last month's increase of unemployment from 3.5 to 4 per cent was a good sign indicating a slowdown in the inflationary trend.

Symington asked: "Are we planning for a recession to reduce inflation?" Kennedy replied: "No, we must now watch the timing to make sure that doesn't happen."

The Nixon administration earlier this year assured labor leaders it would not use unemployment as a weapon to bring inflation under control. But only last month organized labor's chief economist said government anti-inflation steps threatened to bring massive unemployment.

"What they are trying to do is bring down the rate of price increases by slamming the brakes on the economy, which can only result in a further increase in unemployment," said Nathaniel Goldfinger, economist for the AFL-CIO.

During Tuesday's hearing, Proxmire asked Kennedy to set an unemployment figure which would trigger alarm within the administration, but the secretary said he had no "magic figure."

Arguments in Kennedy Inquest

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY
Associated Press Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy was called "the focal point" in what his counsel contended would be "an accusatory proceeding which could result in criminal action" in Supreme Court arguments today over the inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne.

Edward B. Hanly, counsel for the Massachusetts Democratic senator, asked the full bench of the state Supreme Court to declare the state's inquest law unconstitutional or lay down a new body of restrictions on the proposed inquest in Edgartown District Court.

Miss Kopechne was found dead in Kennedy's car in a salt water pond on Chappaquiddick Island July 19, Kennedy said the car he was driving went off the side of a narrow bridge and plunged into the water. Kennedy escaped but Miss Kopechne was trapped in the car.

Hanly argued for a full hour of the two-hour hearing before five justices of the court. In addition to asking that the inquest be closed to the press and public, he called upon the court to quash a ruling by District Court Judge James A. Boyle which barred witnesses' lawyers from the court room except while

Montreal Normal After Strike That Caused Looting, Bank Robberies

MONTREAL (AP) — Police and fire protection returned to normal in Montreal today after a one-day strike by more than 6,000 police and firemen seeking pay raises threatened Canada's largest city with chaos.

A provincial policeman was shot to death during a battle between rival groups of drivers. A mob of youths roamed the streets Tuesday night, smashing windows and looting stores.

Ten bank robberies and nearly a score of other thefts were reported.

General Admits Guns Were Sold, Police Charge Turner Lied

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago Police Supt. James Conlisk says former Army Provost Marshal Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner lied when he testified city authorities knowingly gave him 397 confiscated guns for his personal use.

Turner is a central figure in a Senate subcommittee investigation of a probe into charges of a ring of enlisted men, including former Army Sgt. Maj. William O. Woodbridge, was engaged in a large-scale graft ring.

In his testimony Tuesday, Turner was quizzed only on charges he obtained the confiscated guns under pretense they were for Army use and then sold some of them for his own profit.

He said, however, Conlisk knew he wanted the guns for his own collection, although he signed statements at the time affirming the weapons were for the Army.

Conlisk said in Chicago Tuesday Turner's testimony was "untrue." The superintendent also supported the testimony given by police Lt. Paul T. Duellman, who told the subcommittee Tuesday he showed Turner the guns, but never heard him say they were for his own use.

Under this week the main thrust of the subcommittee probe had been into allegations Woodbridge and a band of career sergeants had looted Army recreation clubs, manipulated currency, smuggled liquor and bribed officers.

Woodbridge, who is scheduled to testify Friday, told a reporter he will invoke the 5th Amendment and refuse to answer questions.

His attorney said he advised Woodbridge to refuse to testify because he did not believe he would be given a fair hearing by senators.

Navy Turns Boats Over to Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Navy will transfer 80 river patrol boats to the Vietnamese Navy Friday in the largest single turnover of naval material in the war, South Vietnamese military headquarters announced today.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said the turnover is part of the U.S. program to "Vietnamize" the war so that more American forces can be withdrawn.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the 80 boats would be divided equally among four river patrol groups which will form a task force to be commissioned at ceremonies Friday.

The turnover will bring to 229 the total number of U.S. Navy craft transferred to the Vietnamese since June, 1968, or about 40 per cent of the 550 American boats patrolling South Vietnam's inland waterways.

The other 321 are to be turned over during the next nine months.

The U.S. Command says 33,800 American Navy men now are in Vietnam. President Nixon has announced a 5,000-man cut for the Navy as part of the 35,000-man withdrawal scheduled to be completed by Dec. 15.

Meanwhile, Premier Tran Thien Kiem predicted today that there will be no "breakthrough" in the war until a new supreme leader emerges in Hanoi.

Asked about Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott's statement Monday that there might be a breakthrough in the war in the next 60 to 90 days, Kiem replied: "Now there is a collective leadership in North Vietnam, and there must be some time before anyone can make a decision. It depends on who will be emerging as the leader of North Vietnam."

Western observers do not expect the power struggle anticipated in the wake of President Ho Chi Minh's death to crystallize for some months. They believe the contest will be between Le Duan, the pro-Moscow first secretary of the North Vietnamese Communist party, and Truong Chinh, another political member who is pro-Peking.

Kiem, speaking to newsmen during a hospital dedication in Saigon, said the government is expecting another sharp increase in enemy attacks.

Man Critical of Self for Being Unable to Make Dreams Come True

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The world honors a man for the goals he has won, but he criticizes himself for the daydreams he has never been able to make come true.

They are what keep him young and wondering and hopeful. The difference between a goal and a daydream is the difference between common sense and fantasy.

It is common sense for a man to want to hold a good job, have a wife and family, buy a home and an auto, and be able to afford to join a country club. These are fine and honest goals, but they do grind a man down in his prime. They tire him out.

On the other hand, daydreams, being mere fantasies of the mind, do not inflict wear and tear on the body. Why, a fellow can sit in a swivel chair and daydream all day long and still be as fresh as a daisy at nightfall.

Wouldn't it be nice if, instead of slaving away at his routine goals, a man could spend his life realizing his daydreams?

For example, he might—Get himself piped aboard a battleship. Break up a white slave ring. Tear a noisy telephone out by its tendrils. Buy his wife a department store if she complained she had nothing to wear. Face a rifle squad for an undying cause, and be saved in the nick of time by the arrival of the U.S. cavalry. Head off a band of rustlers by taking a shortcut over the hills to Eagle Pass. Find a way for middle-aged men to keep their hair other than by putting it in a cigar box. Break through the front line of the New York Jets and set Joe Namath back on his heels three times in a row. Hire Mrs. Onassis as a judo instructor. Carve the history of the Republic into the rock.

Kiwanis Club Planning a Pancake Supper

Members of Hope Kiwanis Club are busily engaged in planning their Annual Kiwanis Pancake Supper. This will be an event of Friday, October 24, preceding the Hope-Magnolia Football Game. Serving will begin at 5:00 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria. Tickets are now being sold by members of the Kiwanis Club for $1.00 each.

The Kiwanis Pancake Supper is an annual event with all the proceeds going to Kiwanis Youth Activities. The Pancake Supper in the Fall and Annual Variety Show in the Spring are the two yearly fund raising projects of the local Kiwanis Club, providing the money that is used in Kiwanis Youth Programs.

K.G. Hamilton, new President of the Kiwanis Club, in announcing the Pancake Supper stated that he was sure the local citizens and citizens of the area would support the Pancake Supper this fall as they usually do, insuring the success of this venture.

Astronauts Get Ovation in Paris

PARIS (AP) — America's Apollo 11 astronauts, tracing the steps of the welcome Parisians gave Charles A. Lindbergh 42 years ago, heard the cheers of thousands of Frenchmen today and received the nation's highest honor—the Legion of Honor.

Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas pinned the red ribbon symbolic of membership in the order founded by Napoleon on the lapels of Neil A. Armstrong, Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Col. Michael Collins. Then he embraced each man and gave the traditional French kiss on each cheek.

Chaban-Delmas had broken away from the weekly French Cabinet meeting to greet the astronauts and their wives at the Hotel Matignon, the premier's office. As he left the Cabinet meeting at the Elysee Palace he said, "I don't want to keep them waiting. They were on time getting to the moon."

Under cloudless skies and in temperatures that hovered around 75 degrees, the astro-

Mississippi Player Is Back of Week

By LEROY MORGANTI
OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — "He learns very quickly, retains everything you tell him, works diligently at his position, has a tremendous natural ability and never gets upset in a tight situation."

That, according to Mississippi quarterback coach Jake Gibbs is a modest description of Archie Manning, The Associated Press Back of the Week in the nation after smashing six Southeastern Conference records in a 33-32 losing effort against Alabama last week.

Manning, a 6-foot-3, 198-pound redhead from Drew, completed 33 of 52 passes for 436 yards and two touchdowns and carried 15 times for 104 yards and Ole Miss' three other scores.

Gibbs, a former Rebel quarterback great who divides his time between coaching for the New York Yankees and coaching for the Rebs, is no more extravagant in praise of Manning than others who have watched him pick apart defenses with bullet-like passes and powerful running.

"I'd like to have him right now," said Henry Lee Parker, chief scout of the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League. "He has all the ability of a pro quarterback."

Even more conservative Johnny Vaught, who has watched great quarterbacks during his 23 years as Mississippi coach, has trouble containing himself when he talks about Manning. "He's terrific, just terrific," said Vaught in what amounts to almost a speech for him.

The shy and modest Manning, a junior, seems almost embarrassed by the praise and selection as Back of the Week, and constantly turned the talk from himself to his team.

"We planned to throw a lot against Alabama," he said. "We were hitting so we continued to throw. Our blocking couldn't have been better and the receivers were constantly open."

The Associated Press award was the second for Manning in his brief career. He picked up the first last season after he led the Rebels to a 27-24 upset of Louisiana State, and it was more satisfying "because we won that game."

A good student majoring in government, Manning wants a pro career, but he still doubts his own ability despite the praise of Parker and other pros.

"I have a real ambition to play pro, but there are so many fine athletes it's not going to be easy," he said.

The scouts say Manning has all the tools, a strong and accurate arm, a good head, height and a quick release.

Manning, however, finds fault with himself.

"I run out of the pocket too quick because I'm thinking about running the ball, and I still throw the ball away too much."

Negro Bid in Atlanta Falls Far Short

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A liberal Democrat and a moderate Republican will be in a runoff election for mayor of Atlanta Oct. 21 as the bid of the first Negro in modern times to seek the office fell short.

However, a Negro attorney, Maynard Jackson, won the post of vice mayor now held by the leading mayoralty candidate, Sam Massell.

Massell, 42, rode a surge of Negro votes to the top of the seven-man ticket ahead of Alderman Rodney Cook, 45, the only Republican in the nonpartisan election.

Massell picked up many Negro votes counted on by Dr. Horace Tate, the lone Negro in the race, who finished third.

Conservative Alderman G. Everett Millican, 72, who ran second before the dominantly Negro precincts began to come in, finished fourth. Millican had run on a law-and-order platform.

Jackson, who ran against U.S. Sen. Herman Talmadge last year, was the first Negro to seek the vice mayor's post. He was pulling steadily ahead of Alderman Milton Farris.

With all 149 precincts reporting, Massell had 29,971 votes to 25,830 for Cook. Tate had 22,193 and Millican 17,481.

Jackson led Farris 50,619 to 34,315.

Three other candidates in the mayor's race picked up a few hundred votes among them.

Tate, 46, head of a statewide organization of Negro teachers and a member of the Atlanta school board, apparently was the victim of a split in the Negro vote. Also, voters turned out in fewer numbers than had been expected.

Predictions had run as high as 150,000 votes but the total appeared to be around 100,000. Atlanta has about 200,000 registered voters, 40 per cent of them Negroes.

Tate has received the endorsement of the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Coretta Scott King, widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.; and some other prominent civil rights leaders.

However, a group of black leaders including state Sen. Leroy Johnson supported Massell.

Soviet Built MIG Flown Back to Cuba

HOMESTEAD AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A Russian-built MIG fighter which eluded U.S. defenses and landed near President Nixon's Air Force One jetliner has been flown back to Cuba.

In Washington the question was raised in Congress how the aircraft, carrying loaded cannon and machine guns, was able to breach a supposed security network at a time when the presidential plane was waiting to take Nixon back to Washington from his Biscayne retreat.

A Defense Department spokesman said Tuesday that the fighter, piloted by a defecting Cuban pilot, flew too low most of the way to be spotted by ground radar, and added that radar picket planes normally aloft were not in the air when the jet fighter slipped in Sunday.

The Miami Herald said the picket flight had been canceled for the first time in eight years because of a military economy drive.

A ferry pilot, attired in a Cuban military uniform arrived with five Cuban Air Force personnel aboard a Cuban commercial airliner Tuesday to fly the MIG home.

The pilot edged the snub-nosed fighter into the sky at 3:45 p.m.

Seconds later two sleek F104 jets streaked into the air to give it close escort out of American territory.

The Pentagon said Monday the defecting pilot, Lt. Eduardo Guerra Jimenez, evaded U.S. radar almost until landing by flying at altitudes of 30 to 40 feet.

"We have known for some time that our low level radar capability is somewhat limited," said Jerry Friedheim, deputy assistant secretary of defense.

Guerra's plane was seen once on radar, 13 minutes before his landing.

U.S. radar spotted him then only because he rose to 1,000 feet to get his bearings before dropping down to the low altitude he maintained throughout the rest of the flight.

Guerra, who was granted political asylum, was being kept at an undisclosed location at his own request. He said his family is still in Cuba.

More on Fish Farming

J. Mayo Martin, Fish Biologist with the Department of Interior working out of Stuttgart, Arkansas was the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of Hope Kiwanis Club at Town and Country Restaurant. His topic was Cat Fish Farming, and he showed slides of some of the work that is being done in this and related fields. Mr. Mayo stated that fish farming is a business that brings a high return, but it is accompanied by high investment and high risk. Guests at Tuesday's Kiwanis meeting were Don Robertson and Paul Oller of Hope, Rev. "Buster" Talley of Anadarko, Oklahoma, and Riley Marcus of Palm Springs, California.

ARGUMENTS (from page one)

their clients were testifying. Hanify further asked the court to order Judge Boyle to disqualify himself from the forthcoming inquest because he was a party to today's appeal.

Joseph J. Hurley, an assistant attorney general, who represented Judge Boyle told the court that there had been a great deal of talk about "criminal consequences—and it is probable there could be some criminal consequences."

He said that an inquest could clear persons of suspicion as well as indicating guilt.

"Kennedy himself, on television, referred to innuendo and whispers and gossip," he said. "An inquest could serve to end this and to protect and clear the good name of Miss Kojacne as well, even though she is not, of course, a party to this hearing."

Hurley also said that when Hanify said the inquest at which more than 100 newsmen were accredited would be an invasion of privacy, there was no claim made on any constitutional right.

"If there were a right of privacy, these petitioners have lost it by their own action," he said. "They attended a social event with Sen. Kennedy, a person of great prominence, as the petitioners say in their brief. The girls were Kennedy campaign workers and Kennedy on T-V, described Gargin as 'my friend'."

"If they were private persons before July 18, they are not private persons now, in view of all the publicity which has been cited here."

Hurley said that the peak of the publicity in the whole event came after Kennedy's television speech July 25.

"Another peak came when the petitioners brought this matter to this court."

"One reason the inquest should be public is the same as that which led Mr. Kennedy to go on television—to explain what happened."

"Since that time, many newspapers and national magazines have said editorially over and over that there still are many questions left unanswered," Hurley said.

Hanify said that the decision of Judge Boyle to admit only newsmen to the inquest would make it into a massive publicity situation in which the future may be accompanied by countrights of witnesses, or any person there who might be accused would be in peril. He said the clerk of the Edgartown court had posted a list of 100 different news media covering 132 individuals who were to be allowed

Negroes at Conference Got $1000 Each

By BENNET M. BOLTON
AP Religion Writer

HUDSON, Wis. (AP) — Black and youth participants in a conference on religion questioned the readiness of the country's churches today to move from talk to action and cash for minority causes.

A seminarian taking part in the meeting urged that the 50 participants give to James Forman's Black Economic Development Conference the $1,000 stipend each got from the conference's sponsoring Dayton Foundation of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mark Hanson, a Lutheran from Minneapolis studying at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, also complained of the shortage of young people at the three-day meeting.

Hanson, 22, was the youngest person at the gathering. The average age was 50.

He said many seminarians are frustrated by the gap between theological theory and daily social activity.

"Consequently, even if we do produce a theoretical agenda for the future of religion, I think we have failed," said Hanson.

"We are at a time when young people, right or wrong, aren't even listening to your words because for the most part we've heard your words and we know your lines."

He spoke in the presence of the top executives of nine major Protestant denominations and the heads of both the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches.

Three youths and six Negroes were among the leaders and church scholars at the conference, which ends today.

to cover the inquest. He said that Sen. Kennedy did not try to block an inquest but instead had filed a motion asking that he be allowed "to participate fully in it."

The motion asked that he and other witnesses be entitled to be represented by lawyers and that they be allowed to cross-examine witnesses.

"These motions were denied," Hanify said, "and the judge ordered that witnesses come to make it into a massive publicity situation in which the future may be accompanied by countrights of witnesses, or any person there who might be accused would be in peril. He said the clerk of the Edgartown court had posted a list of 100 different news media covering 132 individuals who were to be allowed

"There is no question but that Kennedy was the focal point of this inquest," Hanify said.

Antipoverty Bill to Bring House Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is heading for a building fight over antipoverty legislation in which the Nixon administration will have the support of only a handful of Republican members.

Faced with the need to line up at least 60 of the 188 House Republicans behind its bill to continue the antipoverty program unchanged for two more years, the administration was able to come with only 18.

As a result, Democrats on the Education and Labor Committee who were prepared to go along with the administration planned to write their own bill. It could add as much as $1 billion to President Nixon's request for antipoverty funds.

The shape of the impending battle was outlined Tuesday when the Education and Labor Committee took up the administration bill, delayed for months while the White House sought GOP votes.

Although a majority of the Republican members were prepared to vote for the bill in the committee, lack of support among the general GOP membership would doom it on the floor. Most Republicans—and a large number of conservative Democrats—favor trimming the program and turning much of it over to the states.

Chairman Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., has refused to let the administration bill out of the committee. "We don't have the votes," he told the Democrats. "The Republicans will support it in committee and gut it on the floor."

Since there is no chance to get the administration bill passed, he said, the committee should try to write a bill on which it can agree. But Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., who leads the fight to enlarge state control over the antipoverty program, refused to offer his amendments in committee.

"The fight is going to be on the floor anyway," he said. "Why waste the time here?" "If the Republicans follow the practice of no amendments in committee," said Perkins, "We'll bring out a bill that will increase the authorization to $3 billion."

Uncle Sam May Have Goofed on Job Report

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Did Uncle Sam goof?

As everyone learned in the second grade, it's quite easy to err in adding a column of figures. And that's just what some observers think the government did in compiling the unemployment statistics for September.

If there are no serious errors, then the figures are loaded with significance. The Labor Department announced that joblessness for the calendar month rose to 4 per cent of the labor force, a sudden and very large jump from 3.5 per cent a month earlier.

Making the jump even more surprising is the fact that for the past year the figure had remained around 3.5 per cent, showing no real trend, and that in August it had even dropped a bit.

The September percentage could be correct, but some economists can't easily forget that in the past the government has changed some figures after totalling them up a second time.

There are other surprises: —Unemployment for white workers rose more swiftly than for blacks. The rate for whites went to 3.6 per cent from 3.2; that for blacks rose to 6.8 per cent from 6.5 per cent.

—The average work week in manufacturing rose to 40.7 hours from 40.6 hours in August.

Both of these findings seem to contradict some generally accepted notions about the employment scene and are bound to occupy economists and analysts for many hours in search of explanations.

First, black workers generally hold the least skilled jobs, and therefore have the weakest grip on employment. In the past, such workers generally were among the first to be laid off in slack periods.

The rise in the average work week poses a problem because logically it should have gone the other way. If employers are slowing down their activities, why should they be increasing the work week?

There could be explanations, but it will be some time before they are revealed. Meanwhile, considerable doubt will remain about the validity of the statistics.

If accepted as valid, the unemployment statistics could mean:

—Efforts of the Nixon administration to slow the economy are having an effect. Some of the other so-called economic indicators have shown little direction. The jobless figures point conclusively toward a slow-down.

—Employers may be making conscious efforts to keep black workers on the payroll, thus slowing the rise in black unemployment.

—The relatively slower rate of increase in black joblessness also could mean that job training and other efforts to upgrade the skills of blacks have had noticeable results.

Suspicion that changes may yet be announced in the job figures is based partially on recent experience with other economic statistics, such as for wholesale prices.

On Aug. 28 the administration announced proudly that the wholesale price index for July had dropped one-tenth of one per cent, suggesting that this was real evidence that its policies were beginning to work.

Two weeks later the decline was eliminated in a recalculation. The first figures, it seems, were preliminary. The new figures showed the index had remained unchanged from the month before. Finally, an error was discovered in the figures and the index was found to be one-tenth of one per cent higher.

Did something similar happen to the job statistics? Maybe not, but don't be surprised to see some revisions announced.

Injunction to Remain

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Chancery Court Judge George K. Cracraft of Helena said Tuesday that the temporary injunction against picketing within a block of any Forrest City schools was to "maintain the status quo."

The judge has continued the injunction. He said a hearing last week produced no evidence that warranted lifting the order.

White students and some parents picketed Sam Smith Junior High School and Forrest City High School Sept. 16-17 protesting what they alleged to be insulting remarks by Negroes. All schools were closed Sept. 18-19 by the school board.
